Myths and Mistakes in Software Project Risk: What You Don't Know Could Hurt You

Presented by: Dr. John A. Estrella, President, Agilitek Corporation

Click Here to Register

Are you taking on too much project risk? Stop wasting time on trivial issues and start directing your efforts at controlling risks that can derail your projects! Are you using a risk identification checklist to avert failures? How do you know that you are addressing the critical risks?

Based on solid research in the financial services sector, this webinar will present an international perspective on important risk factors in information technology projects to help you avoid failures and increase the likelihood of success in your projects by:

- Creating a strong foundation in project risk management through proper risk identification
- Avoiding common misconceptions on the importance of various risk factors
- Incorporating cultural dimensions as they relate to risk propensity and avoidance
- Providing a comprehensive list of risk factors from expert panelists across five countries.
